ABOUT WOMEN AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT,

Dr. D. A. Sargent has written an article for the Scribner's on the physical development of women. He makes "some general inquiries into the physical condition of women in order to ascertain its probable influence upon the development of the race:" and in so doing contrasts the physical condition of girls with that of boys of the same age, and presents comparative tables that are eloquent of the abuse to which woman has been subjected under the rule of "civilization." He maintains that custom and habits through centuries have hindered the development of women both mental and physical, and expresses the belief that in a few generations a regard of hygienic rules, free exerise, the wearing of suitable clothing, and such training of forces as boys and young men now receive must place woman more nearly on an equility with man in physical as well as in mental averages.

Dr. Sargent takes the ground that tight lacing does much to destroy the health of women, then he illustrates. Example: A dozen young women, in loose gymnasium garments, run 540 yards, and then run the same distance in corsets another day. Running time at each trial by each person two minutes and thirty seconds. Before running the average heart impulse 84 beats to the minute. After first race, average impulse 152 beats per minute; after second race, 168. Heart beats under safe exertion should not rise above 160 to the minute. 'In order," writes the doctor, "to ascertain the effect of tight clothing upon respiration, the spirometer was tried. The average natural girth of the chest over the ninth rib was 28 inches, and with corsets 26 inches. The average lung capacity when corsets were worn was 134 cubic inches: when the corsets were removed the test showed an average lung capacity of 167 cubic inches, a gain of three-three cubic inches. Who can estimate its value to the entire system? Why preach the gospel of fresh air to women who deliberately throw away 20 per cent of it by the use of tight stays and corsets?"

There is no doubt of practical sense in what Dr. Sargent says in regard to the agencies that operate against a fuller development of physical woman. His line of argument is not all theory, and yet our readers will bear in mind the fact that the average age of women is nearly equal to that of men. Mulhall says that in Europe the average age of women reaches that of men, and while he does not make any speculations touching the comparative longevity of the sexes in the United States, the insurance statistics show that the ravages of death are very little greater among women than among men. Women have been warned time and time again against the "health impairing" customs that are said to be so common among them, and yet, saying nothing of the diseases natural to women, statistics tell us that women are no more sickly than men, that death, which loves a shining mark, is just as apt to strike down a strong man as it is to touch one of the "gentler sex."

This is not said for the purpose of ridiculing Dr. Sargent's position in regard to the necessity of a fuller physical development of women, but simply to lay some important facts before the readers of the Gazette.

RUSK AND THE CABINET.

The signs of the times point to the fact that Governor Rusk will go in the cabinet as secretary of war. Among all the reports concerning cabinet appointment there are two that have been confirmed by public sentiment—Rusk and Wanamaker. The latest from Indianapolis is the following:

Something of importance may be learned from well-informed republican of prominence in several cities, and a pretty good place to make inquiries, so far as one position is concerned, would be Milwaukee. A gentleman here who has exceptional advantages for ascertaining the truth says that nothing is more certain than that ex-Governor Rusk will be secretary of war, and it has been repeatedly stated that Mr. Wanamaker will be secretary of the navy. With the exception that Mr. Blaine has accepted the position of secretary of state, it is not yet known who have been chosen for the other positions. It is improbable that the offers have been made, unless they were sent out to-day. The determination to appoint ex-Governor Rusk secretary of war is understood to have been reached nearly a month ago, and the president-elect felt entirely satisfied that the selection would be one of the most popular of his appointments, especialy among the ex-soldiers and the republicans of the northwest.

It seems to have been settled in the minds of many public men more than a month ago that Governor Rusk would be appointed, and such papers as the St. Louis Globe Democrat, the Chicago Tribune, the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, the New York Tribune the New York Press, and several other journals of national reputation have for several weeks indicated in their speculations that the war office would be given to Rusk.

Governor Rusk will certainly feel highly complimented by the flattering endorsements he has received by the great republican journals of the country. They are compliments well merited, for of all the men who have been named in connection with the war department, not one of them has been more worthy of the honor than Governor Rusk.

A dispatch from Washington says that Senator Spooner has introduced a bill in the senate providing that farmers' institutes, like those now organized in this state, shall be maintained throughout the nation as a part of the agricultural department. The bill provides that a superintendent of institutes is to be appointed at an annual salary of $6,000. Meetings of the institutes shall be regularly held in the agricultural sections of the country at which experiments, lectures and discussions pertaining to agriculture shall be conducted. The proceedings of these institutes are to be published and authority is given the superintendent of institutes to hire lecturers at a fair rate of compensation for the time actually employed. The annual cost of this system of institutes is not to exceed $500,000, exclusive of permanent salaries and the printing of the reports of the institute meetings.

The tendency of the democratic minority: "It is intimated from West Virginia that the fraudulent democratic governor of that state will give the certificates of election to congress to the four democratic candidates, two of whom are admitted to have been defeated at the polls. As a resul of this indescribable rascality, the clerk's roll of members when the house meets will stand 165 republicans to 160 democrats. A quorum of the house (and democratic filibusters will not permit business to be done without a quorum) is 163. If at any time more than two republicans shall be absent, the democrats can blocade business. This makes it a special neccessity for an extra session and for all republicans to be on hand, in order that contested election cases may be speedily settled."

The Baltimore Sun says that when General Harrison rides up Pennsylvania avenue, to the capitol on March 4, to take the oath of office as president of the United States the Marine band accompanying him will probably be playing the "Grand Inaugural March" rendered at the inauguration of his grandfether forty-eight years ago, and composed by Miss Susanna Warfield, who is now living at Sykesville, Carroll county, Md., at the advanced age of ninety-five years."

There is one man in Los Angeles engaged in a very doleful business. He is hired to travel east with the corpses of people who go to southern California to find health, and find death instead. That man is in as grewsome business as the average democrat who is called upon to attend the political funerals of his party.

The deposits in the Philadelphia Savings Fund amounted to the enormous sum of $30,300,000 on January 1st of this year. Nearly all the deposits are made by poor men.

Cabinet guessers have got to their wit's end. They are balked, and know not where to go for material on which to found a guess.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

"Gath" quotes a friend of Mr. Blaine as saying that Mrs. Blaine is one of the last instances of the real Puritan woman.

Mr. Cleveland's future residence in or near New York seems still unsettled. When lately in the city he looked at a $36,000 house near Prospect Park, Brooklyn.

W. H. Holabird of Pomona Valley, California, will plant 650 orange trees this spring. This will give him an orchard of 30,000 trees, the largest orange orchard in the world.

Miss Louis Drexel, of Philadelphia, who was married recently, presented to her husband as a wedding gift the title deeds for her country residence at Andalusia and a city mansion in Rittenhouse square for which Miss Drexel paid $170,000.

Editor Elliott F. Shepard, having suppressed the wicked Sunday stages on Fifth avenue, doubtless feels that he is entitled to a little dip into the dissipation of the giddy world. So he has bought $250 worth of tickets to the inauguration ball.

Gen. Harrison has sent a fine photograph to Philadelphia to be used in the mint there in making a plate which may be used at some future time upon the government bank notes. This is the setting in which the portraits of all our eminent statesmen are most popular.

Old Miss Peirson, of Pittsfield, Mass., died. She was a noted character, She used to go to cattle shows bedecked with diamonds. In her effects were found fifty bonnets, seventy shawls and many silk dresses fifty years old. But she could afford what she pleased because her personal estate probated at $450,000.

Then let the moon usurp the rule of day,
And winking tapers show the sun his way.
For what my senses can perceive,
I need no revelation to believe."

Ladies suffering from any of the weaknesses or ailments peculiar to their sex, and who will use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription according to directions, will experience a genuine revelation in the benefit they will receive. It is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, 'female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

THE INAUGURATION.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company offers its patrons a splendid opportunity to visit Washington in March next, and participate in the imposing ceremonies incident to the inauguration of President Harrison. For that occasion tickets will be sold from all principal stations at the very low rate of one fare for the round trip. For full information regarding rates, dates of sale, etc., apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

Oh, give me teeth sound, white and neat,
Oh, give me breath thats pure and sweet,
Oh, give me rosy, healthful gums,
And I will meet whatever comes;
Whatever trouble may befall,
With SOZODONT I'll meet them all.

PAID THE DEATH PENALTY

A MINNESOTA MURDERER LEGALLY EXECUTED.

His Companion in Crime Has His Sentence Commuted—An Illicit Distillery Captured in Chicago.

ALEXANDRIA, Minn., Feb. 16. — John Lee was hanged at 10:01 o'clock Friday morning at the jail. A moderate crowd witnessed the execution, whice passed off without any exciting event.

John Lee was hanged for murdering Charles Cheline, at Brandon, Minn., on the night of July 10, 1888. Executive clemency saved the life of Martin Moe, who was to have been hanged with him, from a similar fate.

Both were hard working and industrious fellows. Martin Moe, however, was always eager for a quarrel. John Lee had a long-standing feud, according to his own story, with Charlie Cheline. One night Moe and Lee came to town and began drinking. That night Lee and Cheline drank together. The next day Lee and Moe kept on their spree. Monday night they slept in a barn belonging to Lee's father. Tuesday morning Lee met Cheline and they had an altercation. That afternoon Lee and Moe purchased pistols, saying that they intended to hunt gophers. During the afternoon and evening they were walking around town, declaring that some one was going to die that night. About 11 o'clock Cheline was walking down the lower end of the main street of the little town. A short distance away were Lee and Moe. Suddenly Moe exclaimed: "There's your man; give it to him." And without a word of warning Lee stepped up to Cheline and shot him through the head. Then, turning about, he discharged two chambers of his revolver at random, and the bullets buried themselves in a neighboring building. Moe was arrested that night, but Lee was not found until the next morning. In October the grand jury met. The two men were indicted, tried, convicted of murder, and sentenced to be hanged. During the trial they pleaded that they were drunk and irresponsible. A few days ago Lee made a confession, exonerating Moe from actual participation in the murder.

MOONSHINE WHISHY.

An Illicit Still Captured in the Heart of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—An illicit still and a complete apparatus for the production of corn whisky have been unearthed in this city and seized by the United States revenue officers. A dozen or more persons, including several saloon-keepers, are suspected of complicity with the moonshiners, and a number of arrests will probably be made by the government authorities to-day.

The discovery came about in this way: A tinner named Weinrode, living at Taylor and Canal streets, was summoned one night three weeks ago to 130 Bunker street to mend a leak in a large galvanized-iron vat. Weinrode had formerly worked in a Russian distillery, and he at once recognized the strange apparatus he saw was connected with the vat to be a still. He said nothing, repaired the leak, and with a substantial reward in his pocket went home. The next day he told his experience to his brother-in-law, Blumfelt, a shoemaker. Blumfelt informed Robert Bruce, a private detective. Bruce knowing that the informer of violations of the internal-revenue laws gets one-half the value of the property forfeited to the government and one-half the fines in cases of conviction, set about to run down the illicit distillers.

He soon discovered enough to convince him that extensive frauds were being perpetrated upon the government by a gang of Russian Jews. He then informed Collector Stone.

The collector set his deputies to work, and Thursday night six of them, under the leadership of Chief Deputy Crossette, proceeded to surround the House at 130 Bunker street. The front part is used as a rag warehouse and junk-shop. In the rear rooms was the distilling plant.

The officers, armed with the proper papers, broke in. They found a lead still, a galvanized-iron boiler, a small mill for grinding corn, worked by treadle power, and other machinery used in the production of whisky. The capacity was about twenty gallons a day. The still was not being worked at the time of the seizure, but there was indubitable evidences of its recent use. Two Russians were found asleep in the building, but for some reason they were not arrested. The apparatus was all removed to the Government building.

In the Hands of the Jury.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—The trial of Shaw, Plessner, and Corbett for receiving stolen bonds, the proceeds of a burglary, which has been pending before Judge Tuthill for the past three days, was closed Friday evening and the case given to the jury with instructions to bring in a sealed verdict.

MUST FIGHT AGAIN.

The McAuliffe-Myer Battle Not Yet Decided.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—McAuliffe must fight Myer again or forfeit his share of the $5,000 stake money. Myer and his backer, Mr. Alf Kennedy, came up from Streator last night and entered formal protest against taking the money down, and it still reposes in the stakeholder's hands. The articles of agreement provided that in case of police interference or if the contest should be declared a draw the fight should be renewed within 72 hours. In order to take advantage of this Myer and Kennedy came here and notified McAuliffe at Milwaukee. Referee McDonald officially recognized Myer's claim, and while it was too late to finish the contest within 72 hours both sides agreed to fight again for the stakes, McAuliffe, however, insisting that the battle be either in the East or on the Pacific coast.

Two Women Burned to Death.

WARSAW, N. Y., Feb. 16.—The old Eagle hotel, a landmark at Pike, Wyoming county, was burned this morning. Jennie Mack, a domestic, and her niece, Pearl, were burned to death. A ladder was put to her window, but the room was all in flames. The Bronson block, adjoining, was also consumed. The total loss is $8,000, and is well insured.

Died from Chewing Toothpicks.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Feb. 16. — Hart Williams, aged 17 years, whose home is at Milo, died very suddenly at Hastings yesterday. A post-mortem was held, which showed that he had died from the effects of pieces of toothpicks swallowed and filling up his stomach.

Shadowed a Lynching Party.

CARTHAGE, Ill., Feb. 15.—It is said that a detective has been at work investigating the recent attempt at lynching in Hancock county, and that he has secured sufficient evidence to fix the guilt on several parties.

THOSE UNHAPPY PERSONS who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic suffers. Price 25 cents.

Rockford, Ill.—John Leish, the barber who ran away with and married Nettie Morgan, has been released from jail and the charges against him dismissed. The girl's sister and a young man who helped the couple to leave town are still in jail.

FLAMES AT FORT WAYNE.

A Big Fire With the Losses Reported Very Heavy.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 16.—At 1 o'clock Saturday morning fire broke out in L. Fox & Bros.' wholesale cracker factory, on the corner of Calhoun and Jefferson streets, and in thirty minutes it was a complete ruin. The building was a large four story brick entirely new, and the house was doing a heavy business. Skelton, Watt & Wilt's wholesale grocery, in the adjoining block, owned by William Fleming, then caught fire, and was quickly burned to the ground. That building is also a four-story brick. It is impossible to estimate closely the loss, but it will not be less than $100,000. The fire originated in the engine room of the cracker factory.

Collision With a Street Car.

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 16.—A north-bound passenger train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ran into a street car on the Twelfth and Edmont street crossing this morning, and threw the vehicle off the track. There were five lady passengers in the car at the time and four of them were severely hurt. One, Mrs. J. Shaw of Upland will probably not recover. The driver was also badly injured. The street car is a complete wreck.

Happiness.

The foundation of all happiness is health. A man with an imperfect digestion may be a millionaire, may be the husband of an angel and the father of half a dozen cherubs, and yet be miserable if he be troubled with dyspepsia, or any of the disorders arising from imperfect digestion or a sluggish liver. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are the safest and surest remedy for these morbid conditions. Being purely vegetable, they are perfectly harmless.

THERE is no class of persons who should pay more attention to the quality of the soap used upon their clothing than salaried men or persons of limited income. Three dollars per year saved in the cost of soap is more than likely to result in fifty dollars' worth of damage to the articles it is used upon. Professor Cornwall, of Princeton College, says, "The IVORY SOAP is of great purity and "more than average cleansing power." A word to the wise is sufficient.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

FAVORABLE OUTLOOK FOR THE ILLINOIS DRAINAGE BILL.

Progress on the Stock Yards Measure—Nominations by Gov. Luce—The Northern Dives.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 16.—The House again took up the drainage bill in committee of the whole. The bill was read section by section. Many amendments were proposed, but with few important changes the bill was reported to the House and ordered to second reading.

The following are the principal amendments adopted:

Add to section 5 the following words: "Subject to the reservation contained in section 5 relating to water power and docks."

Amend section 21 by adding thereto the following: "In case a channel is constructed in the Desplaines river as contemplated in this section it shall be carried down the slope between Lockport and Joliet to the pool commonly known as the upper basin, of sufficient width and depth to carry off the water the channel shall bring down from above."

Amend section 23 by adding thereto the following: "Provided nothing in this act shall in any wise be construed as to diminish, impair, or remove any right or rights of any city, village, township or corporation, body politic or individual situated on the Desplaines or Illinois rivers or their tributaries and within the valleys of the same to use the channel for drainage or otherwise not inconsistent with the rights of the district constructing the same as expressed in this act."

Amend several sections by striking out the word "drainage" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "sanitary."

Amend section 21 by striking out in lines 18 and 19 the words "from the point where such channel shall empty directly into either one of said rivers."

Mr. Jones of Sangamon, then called up his bill to regulate stock yards charges, which had been made a special order. Mr. Hayes of Cook, moved to refer Mr. Jones' bill, with all pending amendments, to the committee on corporations. The previous question having been ordered the yeas and nays were called and the motion to refer was defeated by a vote of 81 to 60. The question now recurred on the pending amendment, which was a motion of Mr. Allen of Vermilion, to strike out all after the word "A bill" and to insert in lieu thereof the Crawford bill. This was also voted down and Mr. Jones' bill ordered engrossed and to third reading.

Bills of the following character were introduced: By Mr. White, amending the law compelling the owners of thrashing and other machines to guard against accident; by Mr. Crafts, making Lincoln's birthday a legal holiday throughout the State of Illinois; by Mr. Cochennour, prohibiting under penalty of fine and imprisonment, the playing of base-ball on Sunday; by Mr. Hayes, appropriating $200,000 for the establishment of an Illinois hospital for inebriates and providing for the appointment of a commission to select and purchase site; by Mr. Carmody, amending the criminal code so as to provide that the time a man serves in the county jail before conviction shall be credited to him and deducted from his penitentiary term at the time of his sentence by the judge.

Mr. Prince's bill amending the law concerning the time of holding circuit courts was read a third time and passed without discussion.

A long discussion took place over the joint resolution providing for an adjournment of both Houses from Tuesday next to Feb. 25 in order that the Grand Army convention might be held in the capital during the interval. The Democrats almost solidly opposed the resolution, but it was carried by a vote of 64 to 51.

The Senate.

In the Senate the consideration of Mr. Newell's resolution concerning Chicago sewerage was postponed till Tuesday next. Mr. Jones' bill to fix the duty and compensation of the commission of claims was considered as a special order. It was amended so as to provide that the commissioners shall serve only four years and that they shall not all be of the same political faith, and the bill was ordered to third reading.

The Senate then went into executive session and confirmed the following appointments: Edwin A. Pinero, public administrator for Calhoun county; James M. Brock, public administrator for Mercer county; Don R. Frazier of Carroll county, for printer expert; Thomas Jamieson of Cook, to succeed Herman Schneider as member of the Board of Pharmacy.

When the executive session arose bills were introduced as follows: By Mr. Evans, increasing coroners' fees from $10 to $15; by Mr. Higbee, making three barb wires a legal fence; by Mr. Reinhardt, requiring road commissioners to meet with and make their levies with the consent of the board of town auditors; by Mr. Karraker, prohibiting bank officers and officers of the State or of municipalities from dealing in options; by Mr. Yost, to prevent insurance companies from forming pools; by Mr. Seitz, to enable cities, towns, and villages to tax merchants.

A joint resolution providing that when the Senate adjourns next Tuesday it stand adjourned till 5 o'clock Monday evening, Feb. 26, was adopted in order to permit the Senate chamber to be used next week by the Woman's Relief corps.

WISCONSIN DIVES.

The Senate Committee Says Their Horrors Have Been Magnified.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 16.—The Senate committee appointed to investigate the northern dives has made its report. The committee consisted of Senators Lovejoy, Green, and Avery. The report is as follows:

"The committee on State affairs, to whom was referred joint resolution No. 2 A, providing for a legislative investigation into the allegations regarding houses of prostitution in northern Wisconsin submits as follows: From authority undoubted by us we are satisfied that the reports relative to such places have been grossly exaggerated. That houses of ill fame exist can not be denied, but the charges of cruelty on the part of the keepers or previous innocence of the inmates are not substantiated by any evidence presented to this committee. An examination of the statutes will show laws for the suppression of all such resorts if they are enforced. The enforcement is in the hands of local officials, as it must necessarily be. The executive of the State has diligently urged action on the part of the local officers. If they have failed he has the right, on complaint being made, to cite any delinquent officer before him to show cause why a removal should not take place. The records prove that no such complaints have been made, showing conclusively that if the dives of northern Wisconsin are in anywhere near as bad as alleged the parties affecting to possess such knowledge preferred to use that knowledge in newspapers outside of the State or elaborate in sensational lectures. Had a complaint been made to the proper authority your committee are confident that the late executive, as well as the present one, would have promptly removed any delinquent officer. It must be understood that in the courts, in order to secure convictions, the necessary proof must be put in evidence, and it is often a difficult and slow procedure to secure this. Mere allegations are not sufficient. Nearly all of the recent convictions of keepers of houses of ill fame were on complaints made prior to any agitation of this question, and those convictions, your committee is glad to say, have awakened a general feeling in the communities affected to wipe out and utterly destroy all houses of prostitution. Under these circumstances and in view of the impracticability of such a course we think that a legislative investigation is entirely unnecessary.

"Your committee therefore recommend that no legislative action be taken."

Milwaukee was authorized to issue $1,500,000 bonds to construct a new city hall.

MICHIGAN SOLONS.

A Wrangle Over Mileage—Appointments Confirmed.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 15.—Mr. Wait presented a resolution fixing the amount to be received by the committees appointed to visit the State institutions at $5 a day and 10 cents a mile for travel. A statute provides that they shall not receive over 6 cents a mile, and the whole forenoon was wasted in a bitter wrangle over the resolution. The resolution finally carried, but the Speaker took the floor and moved for a reconsideration, claiming that the action of the House was unjust, unfair, and unlawful. The Speaker in return was hotly accused of buncombe and his motion to reconsider tabled. In the afternoon the fight was resumed and resulted in a victory for the Speaker, a concurrent resolution being adopted providing for the appointment of a joint committee of three from each house to report a basis for making up accounts of the visiting committees. A number of the Senators have already drawn and pocketed their allowance at the rate of 10 cents a mile, while others were only allowed 6 cents by flinty-hearted chairmen, and the latter class denounce the action of their colleagues as an out-and-out steal.

Gov. Luce sent the following nominations to the Senate: Alfred H. Heath of India, as commissioner of labor for two years; D. Bethune Duffield of Detroit, John K. Boles of Hudson, Harry A. Conent of Monroe, Charles G. Ellsworth of Greenville, Guy M. Trowbridge of Pontiac and John Duncan of Calumet as members of the board of control of railroads for four years from Feb. 23, 1889; John McKay of Romeo, for member of the live stock sanitary commission; John G. Mason of Adrian, John M. Kinney of Port Huron, and Mary E. Mayo of Battle Creek as members of the board of control of the industrial home for girls at Adrian.

The Senate passed bills incorporating the city of Gladstone and amending the charter of Ann Arbor. Bills were introduced to prohibit the opening of theaters for entertainment or parks for ball games on Sunday; to enable Detroit to issue bonds for $500,000 to improve its parks and $500,000 for a boulevard; fixing the rate of telegraphic service in Michigan at 1 cent per word.

The legislature was invited to attend a reception at Gen. Alger's home in Detroit next Monday night.

FOR CHEAPER TEXT-BOOKS.

Hoosier Legislators Against the School-Book-Trust.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 16.—The demand of Indiana people for cheaper school books has culminated in an attempt by the Legislature to pass a bill which it is expected will break up the school book trust. Several systems have been proposed in a dozen or more bills introduced in the lower house of the General Assembly, but the one which seems to meet with most favor is a measure which was discussed several hours Friday. It embodies the general features of the California law and gives to the State Board of Education the supervision of the compilation and publication of the text-books, which are to be the property of the State and are to be supplied to the school children at actual cost. There is some objection to the bill as it stands, because it gives to the Board of Education greater power than it is thought safe for them to possess, and in consequence a select committee of seven was directed to give special attention to preparing a new bill, which will be taken up for consideration and passage next Tuesday. It is estimated that the cost of the system to the State will be fully $3,000,000.

In discussing the bill in the Senate for the regulation of the use of natural gas there was strong opposition to permitting gas to be piped from Indiana to neighboring States, because it was believed that the supply would be soon exhausted if Chicago, Cincinnati, and Louisville should run pipe lines into this State. Senator Shackney said that it would be absurd to take a stand over the Indiana gas holes and say that nobody but Indianapolis should enjoy the benefit of the product. It reminded him of the opposition to railroads down in Jackson county, where it was maintained that railroads should not be permitted to pass through because the trains would scare the cows and turn the milk sour. His opposition, however, was not effective. An amendment to the bill was adopted forbidding the piping of the fuel outside of the State.

The bill placing the police and fire departments of Indianapolis under the control of a board of commissioners to be elected by the General Assembly was passed by the House, the Democrats voting solidly for it and the Republicans solidy against it.

The Arkansas Governorship Contest.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 16.—At noon to-day Gov. Eagle sent a message to the Legislature refusing to approve the resolution allowing C. M. Norwood to withdraw from the contest for the office of Governor on the ground that the charges made should be either investigated or withdrawn. Norwood charges fraud in twenty counties. The message created a big sensation.

Two-Cent Railroad Fare.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 15.—The granger members of the Legislature insist that railway rates are too high, and to-day through Mr. Davis got a bill before the House to reduce passenger fares in this State to a uniform rate of 2 cents per mile.

To Renew the Eight-Hour Agitation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has called a meeting of delegates from the labor delegations of this city to arrange for the great mass-meeting of workingmen next Friday (Washington's birthday) to begin anew the agitation for the adoption of the eight-hour system throughout the country.

Two Instantly Killed.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb., 16.—The boiler of a locomotive on the North Pennsylvania railroad exploded at 7 o'clock this morning near Bingen station. The engineer and fireman were killed.

We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. F. Sherer & Co. druggists.

Failure of a Big Coal Company.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 16.—There is a great sensation to-day in coal circles over the announcement of the failure of the Grand Lake Coal company. The liabilities are not yet known, but they will probably reach $300,000. The company is one of the largest shippers of Monongahela river coal and has connections at Cincinnati, Louisville, and New Orleans. All the company's property here has been seized. A big loss of coal by reason of a storm at New Orleans is the alleged cause of the failure.

The "Sleeping Woman" Dying.

ATTICA, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Mrs. Emma Althouse, the "sleeping woman," is still very low and her death is momentarily expected. She has been awake four days, but her condition is pitiful. She can not move and can not speak audibly enough to be understood. Food of any kind can not be administered and all efforts to do so have been given up, as they invariably led the patient into a fit of violent coughing, which is followed by fainting spells.

THERE IS NO ONE ARTICLE IN THE LIN of medicines that gives so larges return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed Belladonna Backache Plasters.

DIGEST OF CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

A Resolution Introduced in the House Declaring the Senate Tariff Bill Unconstitutional—Gossip.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—In the House Mr. Mills of Texas, from the committee on ways and means, reported back the Mills' tariff bill, with the Senate amendment, and, by direction of the Speaker, it was referred to the committee of the whole.

Mr. Mills also reported the following resolution, which he said presented a question of privilege, and the consideration of which he said he would ask the House to enter upon Tuesday next:

Resolved, That the substitution by the Senate under the form of an amendment for the bill of the House, number 9,051, (the Mills bill) of another and different bill containing a general revision of the laws, imposing import duties and internal taxes, is in conflict with the true intent and purpose of Section 7, Article 1, of the Constitution, and that said bill be returned to the Senate with the respectful suggestion that said section vests in the House of Representatives the sole power to originate such a measure.

The question being on ordering the bill to a third reading, Mr. Kilgore, of Texas, raised the point of no quorum.

The yeas and nays were ordered, but the roll call was not finished when the House, at 12:45, laid the matter aside, to enable it under the special order to consider the resolution instructing the House conferees on the Territorial bill as to the method they should pursue in arriving at an agreement.

Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, said that the constitutional objection raised by the majority of the committee to a reduction of the revenue had been called to the attention of the committee only this morning. He therefore, reserved to the minority the right to file their views.

Mr. Reed, of Maine, reserved a point of order against the resolution. The Speaker said that the resolution would remain upon the Speaker's table with the point of order reserved against it. Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported back the Senate bill appropriating $250,000 to enable the President to protect the interests of the United States in Panama.

Mr. McCreary urged urged upon the House the necessity of making the appropriation to relieve the 4,000 or 5,000 American citizens on the Panama canal route in a destitute condition. In reply to a question from Mr. Cox of New York Mr. McCreary said that the money could be used in bringing home those American citizens.

Mr. Cox said that if the combination of people on the isthmus out of employment took possession of the isthmus, the United States would be bound to do what the present administration had done two years ago, and send down vessels of war to make the transit free and to protect American citizens from impending danger. Mr. Hitt of Illinois urged the importance of the measure.

The House then took up the bill for the admission of Territories.

The pending question was that to table the motion to reconsider the vote by which the House agreed to that portion of the resolution directing the conferees to so amend the bill as to provide for the admission of South Dakota under the Sioux Falls Constitution by proclamation of the President without a new vote being taken on the question of division.

By a vote of 144 to 109 the House tabled the motion to reconsider the vote by which the conferees on the Territorial bill were instructed to consent to the admission of South Dakota by proclamation and without another vote on division. The remaining instruction relative to the admission of North Dakota, Montana and Washington by proclamation was agreed to without division, and the bill again sent to conference, after the adoption of the preliminary instructing clauses, by a vote of yeas 149, nays 101.

The House then passed the Senate bill appropriating $150,000 for the protection of American interests in Panama.

One-Legged Veterans Protest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—A vigorous protest against the action of the inaugural committee in refusing to allow one-legged veterans to ride in the procession has been signed by over fifty Congressmen and forwarded to the committee. There a number of one-legged ex-soldiers who want to take part in the parade, and being unable to walk over the long line of march have asked the privilege of going in a large wagon. The committee refused, as it had been made a rule not to admit any vehicles to the procession.

Acts Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The President has approved the act authorizing the Mount Carmel Development company to draw water from the Wabash river or its tributaries, the acts for the relief of Gen. William F. Smith and William R. Blakeslee, and the joint resolution making appropriation for a payment to the legal representatives of James B. Eads.

A Substitute for the Cowles Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—By a vote of 9 to 5 the House committee to-day resolved to report favorably on a substitute for the Cowles internal-revenue bill. The substitute proposes the entire repeal of the tobacco tax and omits the "moonshine" sections of the Cowles bill.

Colman's Commission Signed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—The President to-day signed the commission of Norman J. Colman as secretary of agriculture.

FATHER STACK IS DEAD.

Bishop O' Hara, Whom He Defied, Will Officiate at the Funeral.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 16.—The death is announced to-day of the Rev. M. P. Stack at Lackawanna hospital resulting from the effects of the bursting of a pipe while he was taking a vapor bath at the establishment of a Scranton physician several weeks ago.

He will be remembered as the clergyman whose difficulties while pastor at Williamsport, this state, culminated in the celebrated Stack-O'Hara case, an action at law, which was well-known on both continents, especially in the Catholic circles of this country, and which was decided in favor of Bishop O'Hara and sustained by the pope, although Father Stack made two visits to Rome in his own behalf. He and the Bishop afterward became reconciled, but the latter would not reinstate the priest in a parish in his diocese. The Bishop directed two priests from the cathedral to visit Father Stack daily, and when all hopes of his recovery had failed, the last rites of the church were administered. The funeral will take place to-day, Bishop O'Hara, whom he so long defied, officiating.

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED
Until the skin was raw. Body covered with scales like spots of mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the 1st of last April I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales being formed, meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuticura Remedies, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

Catarrh to Consumption.
Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of all sufferers in advertized remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery, rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.
But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.
Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional, instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.
Each package contains one bottle of the Radical cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and an Improved Inhaler, with treatise; price, $1.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC
Is entirely a vegetable preparation containing no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic, or other poisonous substances.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC
Has cured hundreds of cases of Epithelioma or Cancer of the Skin, thousands of cases of Eczema, Blood Humors and Skin Diseases, and hundreds of thousands of cases of Scrofula, Blood Poison and Blood Taint.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC
Has relieved thousands of cases of Mercurial Poisoning, Rheumatism and Stiffness of the Joints.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888—Swift's Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: In the early part of the present year, a bad case of blood poison appeared upon me. I began taking S. S. S. under advice of another, and to-day I feel greatly improved. I am still taking the medicine and shall continue to do so until I am perfectly well. I believe it will effect a perfect cure. Yours truly,
DOC. P. HOWARD, 111 West Sixth St.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 7, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: I was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism for two years. I could get no permanent relief from any medicine prescribed by my physician. I took over a dozen bottles of your S. S. S., and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am sure your medicine cured me, and I would recommend it to any one suffering from any blood disease. Yours truly,
O. E. HUGHES, Conductor C. & G. R. R.

WACO, TEXAS, May 9, 1888—Gentlemen: The wife of one of my customers was terribly afflicted with a loathsome skin disease, that covered her whole body. She was confined to her bed for several years by this affliction, and could not help herself at all. She could not sleep from a violent itching and stinging of the skin. The disease baffled the skill of the physicians who treated it. Her husband began finally giving his wife Swift's Specific, and she commenced to improve almost immediately, and in a few weeks she was apparently well. She is now a hearty fine looking lady, with no trace of the affliction left. Yours very truly, J. E. SEARS, Wholesale Druggist, Austin Avenue.

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 16

HERE is some of the millinery of the immediate future. Not an illustration of prophecy regarding the earliest of the spring styles in head-gear, but drawings from models now in the hands of the foremost designers and makers. Within a month just such hats will be worn on the warmer days in the big cities, and even sooner than that they will be seen on the heads of the more venturesome pioneers of fashion, especially in the theater audiences. The first picture will not be the soonest of the lot to be revealed to public view, however, because its shape and materials are conspicuous—rather too much so for other than balmy weather; but it is one of the most picturesque of the forthcoming hats, and will doubtless extend through the summer at the resorts. In this particular instance it is made of white shirred point d'esprit, with roses and buds heaped atop of the crown, and smaller ones placed around the edge of the brim. This is just the sort of a hat to be worn at the early meetings of the country clubs in the neighborhood of New York, where the belles watch the athletic diversions of the beaux, and join in some of them. On these occasions, and also at the spring race-courses throughout the land, it is customary to "rush the season" a little in toilets.

The second hat is not only peculiar in other ways but particularly so in taking an idea from the Hading veil, which is now in such general vogue. A section of the veiling is drawn smoothly over the wide turned-up brim, and then a narrow veil is attached at the rear, brought around the back of the head to the throat, where it encircles the neck and is tied in bows behind.

READY FOR BALMY WEATHER.

It is likely that this notion will be taken up by young women in search of novelty, and who are too young and fair to keep their faces much longer covered by a veil. All that shows in a side view above the brim of this hat is a lot of lace in quillings set upright. The hat itself will be felt for early spring and straw for warmer weather.

About the decoration of the faces that the bonnets inclose: A few years ago it would have been impossible to force the acknowledgment from any woman that she used the refining touch of face-powder. Possibly the custom was as prevalent then as now, but its direct application was consummated amid the sacred privacy of the dressing-room, with the shades tightly drawn. If a girl was discovered in the sunlight with an unmistakable fleck of powder on her delicate little nose she was awfully embarrassed when her kind friend, who envied her that nose, inquired what ever possessed her to put her face into the flour barrel. Those were times when a peerless skin texture was not so openly confessed to in face-wash advertisements. Now it is somewhat different. The New York girl applies her bloom to-day with little or no concealment of the performance. You may often glance in at the window of a carriage and discover the young occupant of it leaning forward to the glass dabbing her nose with powder in the most bare-faced manner. After the formality of new acquaintanceship has worn away you will find that a girl will powder her face right before you, laughing her slight embarrassment off carelessly, as though it was just a little cute way of hers. You may be sitting with a young woman, and beg of her one bit out of her bonbonniere. She opens it, and there within it, instead of sugared violets you see a tiny puff which flutters powder over your coat as the girl lifts it coquettishly to her perfect enough face. It would almost seem possible, if the present progress of the custom is maintained, that the powdering of feminine noses will be such a recognized occurrence as to make it feasible to put machines throughout the shopping districts bearing the advice to drop in a nickel and see a powder puff come out. But, really, these girls should try to get back to the old way of drawing the curtains and letting no one but their maids know of the thin disguise that is practiced.

It is not necessary to tell the feminine reader that the pictured millinery in this article consists entirely of hats, but there may be uninformed masculine persons who require instruction, and for their benefit be it known that the heads of the two girls who so handsomely face each other here are crowned with hats that are a near approach to bonnets. They lack strings, and therefore are hats, but with strings they would be considered bonnets. The one at the left is a toque, made of velvet, with jet pins set into its puffed layers. A ribbon bow in front is the only trimming of a decidedly new and jaunty piece of headgear, becoming to almost any woman, and suitable to wear on occasions of considerable dress. The most circumspectly fashionable ladies in the land, be it understood, never make formal calls or go to afternoon receptions in hats, the rule being that bonnets are required for such purposes. But such a toque as this may be regarded as wearable in place of bonnets at any time or place. The same is true of the modified poke, which is an attractive and seasonable thing in velvet as to its crown, but dressier than the other by means of its full lace shirring around the front. There is a bunch of violets and two stiff wings by way of decoration. These two hats may be properly worn by women of any age, so far as shape is concerned, but of course the matron of good taste will not indulge in so much white or light colors as are permissible to girls.

In a general way it may be said of the early spring millinery that it is both uniform and sightly. The popular adornments are sprays of wild rose, which are natural enough to be taken for real dark English violets, or the double and pale Parma violets, exquisitely perfumed to resemble the natural flowers, are all popular. White lilacs, crocuses, and daffodils, and other old-fashioned garden flowers are especially sought after. Most of the new ribbons are gros grain, with an inch band of satin ribbon on one side, and they may be plain or brocaded in a pattern nearly covering the ribbon or merely stripping it at one side in a fine line of rose-buds or other small flowers. A great variety of fancy braids are shown in different colors, with or without raised "cordoniere" edges, and in plain colors or combined with black. In the importation of flowers for the new season, nature is treated with more respect than formerly, and as a rule the appearance of the genuine things is closely imitated. A great range of flowers will be used, and in cases where the natural colors are not reproduced neutral tints are substituted. In spite of the general tendency to the revival of old French fashions, with their gauzes, flowers and lace, there was never a time when individuality of style was more universally sought after. No bonnet may be a duplicate of another; each must possess its own style and combinations of materials. In fabrics for millinery there are no strikingly new colors. All are rather more intense than they have been, and the faded tones of past seasons will disappear.

DAISY DART.

Fashion Small Talk.

HAIRDRESSING grows most elaborate.

FRENCH bonnets are worn without strings.

THE Empire style prevails for youthful toilets.

SMOCKING continues to be used on children's clothing.

RECAMIER berthas are worn with low-necked dresses.

A FAN composed of a single large velvet pansy is one of the novelties.

AMBER and tortoise-shell combs, with jeweled tops, are in great favor.

FLANNEL skirts will be more worn than ever during the coming summer.

TARTAN hosiery is shown in both silk and wool for wearing with dark gowns.

TINY oyster shells, held together by a pearl or diamond, make handsome little ear-rings.

ALL Paris—that is, all elderly Paris—dons the gauzy head-dress that is a modification of the Mme. de Stael turban.

A Terrible Misfortune.

It is a calamity of the direst kind to feel that one's physical energies are failing in the prime of life—to feel more nerveless, more dispirited, weaker every day. Yet this is the unhappy lot of hundreds who surround us. A source of renewed strength which science approves, in behalf of which multitudes of the debilitated have and are every day testifying, and which in countless instances, has built up constitutions sapped by weakness and infirmity and long unbenefitted by other means, surely commends itself to all who need a tonic. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a medicine—pure, botanic, soothing to the nerves, promotive of digestion and fertilizer of the blood. Dyspepsia and nervousness—the first a cause, the second a consequence of lack of stamina—depart when a course of the Bitters is tried. All forms of malarial diseases, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, constipation and biliousness are annihilated by this standard family medicine.

Terrible Forewarnings.

Cough in the morning, hurried or difficult breathing, raising phlegm, tightness in the chest, quickened pulse, chilliness in the evening or sweats at night, all or any of these things are the first stages of consumption. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for consumption will cure these fearful symptoms, and is sold under a positive guarantee by Prentice & Evenson, druggists.

CHICAGO TO CALIFORNIA

The Santa Fe Route is now running a Pullman Vestibule Sleeping Car from Chicago to San Diego, via. Los Angeles, without change. The train leaves Dearborn Station, Chicago, every night at 11 o'clock. This is a great attraction and an unequalled accommodation for passengers. Office, 212 Clark street, corner Adams.

Promptness.

First a cold then a cough, then consumption, then death. "I took Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption the moment I began to cough, and I believe it saved my life."—WALTER N. WALLACE, Washington. PRENTICE & EVENSON, druggists.

M. FLOQUET'S RESIGNATION.

Comments of the Parisian Press on the Situation—Quiet Reigns.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—Different interpretations are given to the vote of the Chamber yesterday. Some say it was not intended as a declaration of want of confidence, but was seized upon by M. Floquet as a pretext for resigning and thus escaping from a situation which had become intolerable to him and his colleagues. The vote was unexpected; the resignation was still more surprising, and can only be regarded as an act of political suicide on the part of the cabinet.

The opportunist journals are not dissatisfied with the result. They say it has cleared the ground for President Carnot and left him a free hand. He can now form a cabinet in accordance with his own views as a conservative Republican. The Boulangist organs loudly sound the note of triumph. They claim the victory as theirs and declare the dissolution of the Chamber more than ever necessary. They call upon the deputies to resign as the ministers did, for both have been condemned by the country. An appeal should now be made to the people. It is the duty of parties which have any patriotism left. The radical press are in despair; they proclaim that the concentration of the republican groups is impossible. In the meantime, notwithstanding the crisis so fraught with tremendous possibilities, Paris is quiet. There are few outward signs of excitement. There has been no disorder and none threatened.

THOSE NOTABLE LETTERS.

Labouchere Offered £1,000 to Pigott if He Would Tell the Truth.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—In the Parnell commission the cross-examination of Mr. Soames, the Times' solicitor and agent, was continued.

The witness swore that neither he, Houston, nor MacDonald knew where Pigott obtained the Parnell letters; they never asked, because Pigott from the first declared he would never reveal the circumstances of their discovery and the means by which he gained possession of them except in a court of law. All that was known was that Pigott received them in 1886.

Sir Charles Russell examined the witness very closely as to various forms of Parnell's signatures which had been produced in court. It was found that some were genuine and some spurious. The witness was required to distinguish between them and explain their origin. The interesting fact was elicited that Mr. Labouchere had offered Pigott £1,000 if he would enter the witness box and tell the truth as to the author of the letters.

This statement caused a sensation in the court room.

Continuing, Mr. Soames said that Pigott did not tell him of the correspondence he had had with Archbishop Walsh of Dublin regarding the letters. He had never heard of this correspondence until it was mentioned in court last evening. Besides Mr. Inglis Mr. Soames said the Timess engaged Messrs. Birch and Eliiss as experts. He had never promised Pigott a sixpence, but knew that Pigott had asked Houston for 5,000 pounds on the ground that it would be impossible for him to live in Dublin after giving evidence for the Times, and that he wanted to make some provision for himself. The witness told him that such a suggestion could not be listened to, but that he might rest satisfied that the Times would never see him ruined through honestly testifying to all he knew.

The Russian Flag on French Land.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Advices from Aden say that it is reported there that the Cossack expedition under M. Aschinoff has hoisted the Russian flag at Sagolla. Under an Anglo-French agreement Sagolla is French territory.

CABINET TALK.

Windom Summoned to Indianapolis by Gen. Harrison—Rusk's Chances.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—William Windom left Friday morning for Indianapolis in response to a telegraphic summons from Gen. Harrison. The ex-Secretary received the dispatch Thursday night requesting his presence at the Hoosier capital, and he promptly answered Gen. Harrison that he would be at his home Saturday morning. There is a report among politicians that the invitation means that Mr. Windom will be the next Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Windom talked with some friends before leaving for the West. At the station he was met by a reporter, to whom he said: "I will neither deny nor affirm that my name is under consideration for the Secretaryship of the Treasury or any other Cabinet post. All I know about the matter is that Gen. Harrison has requested me to visit him and I shall do so."

"Will your appointment be a New York or a Minnesota one?"

"I don't know that there is to be any appointment. If you want to know whether I am a citizen of Minnesota or of this city I will say the former, for it is there I vote and hold my legal residence. My business interests have kept me largely in the East during the past four years and I am identified with companies whose headquarters are located here."

It Looks Like Rusk.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 16.—There seems to be no doubt but that Gen. Harrison has practically determined on his cabinet and that there will be no change unless now unforeseen should occur. The authority for this is a close friend of the President-elect, who says that Gen. Harrison told him that all the names had been determined on. The gentlemen selected will not officially be made known before March 4. There is reason to believe that Gov. Rusk of Wisconsin will be Secretary of war. The local feeling is that the Treasury will go to Col. New, although there is nothing certain about this.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 16.—The impression here that Rusk will be Secretary of War is strengthening.

TO MONTANA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON.
If you are going west bear in mind the following facts: The Northern Pacific Railroad owns and operates 987 miles, or 57 per cent. of the entire railroad mileage of Montana; spans the territory with its main lines from east to west; is the short line to Helena; the only Pullman and dining car line to Butte, and is the only line that reaches Miles City, Billings, Bozeman, Missoula, the Yellowstone National Park and, in fact, nine-tenths of the cities and points of interest in the territory.
The Northern Pacific owns and operates 621 miles or 56 per cent of the railroad mileage of Washington, its main line extending from the Idaho line via Spokane Falls, Cheney, Sprague, Yakima and Ellensburg, through the center of the territory to Tacoma and Seattle, and from Tacoma to Portland. No other transcontinental through rail line reaches any portion of Washington Territory. Ten days stop over privileges are given on Northern Pacific second class tickets at Spokane Falls and all points west, thus affording intending settlers an excellent opportunity to see the entire territory without incurring the expense of paying local fares from point to point.
The Northern Pacific is the shortest route from St. Paul to Tacoma by 207 miles; to Seattle by 177 miles, and to Portland by 324 miles—time correspondingly shorter, varying from one to two days, according to destination. No other line from St. Paul or Minneapolis runs through passenger cars of any kind into Idaho, Oregon or Washington.
In addition to being the only rail line to Spokane Falls, Tacoma and Seattle, the Northern Pacific reaches all the principal points in Northern Minnesota and Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Bear in mind that the Northern Pacific and Shasta line is the scenic route to all points in California.
Send for illustrated pamphlets, maps, and books giving you valuable information in reference to the country traversed by this great line from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Ashland to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma and Seattle, Washington, Territory, and enclose stamps for the new 1889 Rand McNally County map of Washington Territory, printed in colors.

HOW LONG CAN THEY RUN?

A Janesville Machinist Bets on Engines, and Loses.

"How Long Can a Steam Engine Run Without Stopping?"

This question came up in a Janesville engine room the other day, and some of the guesses made were very wide of the mark.

"An engine may run two or three weeks," said one machinist, "but any longer than that is impossible."

"Betchadollar."

That offer to bet brought the discussion to a head. Authorities were called for and facts were developed that not all of the general public are familiar with. It was found that until lately a run of a few days or weeks was the longest supposed to be possible. This record has now been beaten. The last public notice of a long run made by a Westinghouse engine was where a certain engine ran eleven months without stopping, at a speed of 300 revolutions. The most remarkable record, however, has recently been developed in the Pittsburg Gas Light Co., when a ten horse Westinghouse engine ran continuously for thirteen months, running at about 500 revolutions per minute, and in that time making 288,000,000 revolutions without the throttle valve being shut.

"This engine," reed the referee, "is still running."

"Is still running, did you say?" inquired the thunder-struck mechanic "Here! take my dollar and let me get out of this, quick."

An entertaining and instructive programme of literary excercises, with games and refreshments assisted in making the evening one of great enjoyment for all in attendance.

—The New York Graphic has been recently purchased and completely reorganized as a vigorously republican paper. It is said that Senator Quay, S B. Elkins and other prominent republicans are concerned in the reorganization of The Graphic. If so, The Graphic is surely going to become a power in the republican party, and already shows wonderful improvement.

—Our Dump Animals:—A wise horse is Ned, the dapple gray that runs on engine No. 3 of Newburyport. One of the useful accomplishments he picked up a short time ago is that of watering himself. Happening into the fire station one evening this week, the scribe was introduced to this feat of the gray's. "Ned," said the driver, "do you want a drink?" The old fellow looked round with a wink, as much as to say he did. Being unhitched, he came out of his stall, walked over to the trough, looked around for a moment, smelled of the faucet, taking it in his teeth, opened it wide, setting the water running merrily. His thirst quenced, he reversed the lever, took another observation, and sauntered back to his stall unconcernedly.

—Mr. Chas. E. Wheelock, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wheelock, is taking a front rank in business circles. He is now located in Peoria, Illinois. Recently he purchased the wholesale crockery establishment of Miller Bros., in that city, which he is conducting in connection with his retail establishment. Charley graduated from the Janesville high school, class of '77. The graduation exercises occurred on Friday, and on the next Monday he engaged in business which he has continued ever since. His retail store in Peoria is located a few blocks from the wholesale establishment, both houses having a well established trade. Mr. Wheelock gives his personal attention to the wholesale business in the forenoons, and the afternoons are devoted to the retail business, and he is counted as one of the wide-awoke business men of that city; which is second in size in the state, having 43,000 inhabitants.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

EDWARD MOON.

After a long and painful illness Mr. Edward Moon died at his home in the second ward this morning. Death had stood by his bed side for months and he met the dread visitor bravely and without a murmur.

The funeral services will be held Monday at two o'clock, being conducted at the home on Milton avenue.

LUELLA BLAIR.

Little Luella Blair, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blair, No. 58 South Jackson street, died last evening a few minuets after seven o'clock of measles. The little household treasure was attacked with measles about one week ago, at first breaking out in the regular way, causing no alarm: afterwards there was a relapse, followed by cerebral disturbances, which finally proved fatal. The funeral will be held at the home at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

Little Luella was the pride of her fond parents, and a favorite among her youthful acquaitances. To her parents the death summons is a terrible blow, and their grief can only be measured by those who have watched with tearful eyes and bleeding hearts their little one pass from the home to their Father in heaven. In their bereavement the parents have the deepespest sympathy of the community.

DR. D. E. BELDING.

Dr. D. E. Belding died at nine o'clock Friday evening February 15th at his home in Shopiere, after three weeks of terrible suffering, the cause being a carbuncle on the back of his neck.

The Dr. was born in New York in 1829, where he was educated for a physician, graduating at Castleton, Vermont, in 1849. In 1851, he came to Wisconsin locating in Shopiere, where he practiced nine years. In the spring of 1860 he gave up his extensive practice and retired to his farm in the adjoining town of LaPrairie, where he has since lived, except two years which he spent in Clinton, Wis. His wife, who survives him, was Miss Mary Blood also a native of New York. They were married in 1854.

Aside from the facts above mentioned but little need be said. Dr. Belding was too well known to need a eulogy. As a physician he was ever ready and efficient. In the sick room his genial nature and cheerful disposition acted like a charm. Though by choice his attention was mostly turned to farming for the past few years, there were many who insisted on his attendance in sickness.

As a neighbor and friend he was one of the few who commanded the respect of the entire community: Though a member of no church, he constantly attended the Congregational church, of which his wife is a member. But as a husband and father he will be most sadly missed, and to the bereaved wife and son is extended the sympathy of all.

The funeral will be held at the Congregational church, Monday, February 18th, at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. Salmon, of Beloit, is expected to officiate.

THE "NEW DOOR" PUZZLE.

IT PROVES A SWEET MORSEL FOR THE YOUNGSTERS—THE PRIZES.

The little puzzle published in last evening's Gazette,—how to make one word out of the letters contained in the two words "New Door,"—was caught by a score or more of little boys and girls, many of whom flocked to the Gazette office this morning with the solution. The little ones evidently had as much fun over it as the older ones did figuring out the New Hampshire liquor problem. The gentleman who sent in the one-word puzzle is a little puzzled himself how to award the prize, and has finally decided to give a handsome valentine to each one of the following girls and boys, the names being published as sent in by mail or by personal call at the Gazette office:

GIRLS.	BOYS.
Genevieve Wilson	E. D. Billings,
Saddie Kemmitt,	Clarence Rowe,
Gracie Nott,	Marvin J. Welch,
Minnie Gateley,	Samuel Echlin,
Nellie R. Spicer,	James E. Botsford,
Maude Winslow,	Willis Otis,
Lutie Fitzgibbon.

One little boy sent in as his answer the following:—"Doorwen." And a little girl came in with the remark, "You can't fool us, cause you printed the answer with the puzzle. It's "ONE WORD."

The Valentines will be ready to give out Monday. Call at the Gazette office.

The price asked for the Humphrey property, which includes five lots 4 by 16 rods on Main street, and eight acres adjoining, is but little more than the buildings cost. Come and see me if you want any kind of a bargain. C. E. BOWLES.

GIVE THE FISH A CHANCE.

A Plea for Fish-Ways in Rock River Dams.

Reasons Why there is a Scarcity of Fish in Rock River.

To the Editor.

It is an unquestioned fact that the bulk of our river fish migrate more or less up and down the streams, according to the seasons of the year. Generally speaking fish go down stream in the fall, and up stream in the spring. The many dams across the river below the lake, act as but a partial obstruction to the downward movement of the fish, except when unusually low water occurs in the fall, the fish can go down over the dam whenever there is water enough to flow over the dam. Last fall was remakable for its low water, and during the season of the downward movement of fish a large portion of the time there was not a drop of water went over the dams, consequently the fish were held back, and there is good fishing in the lake. But remember that if these fish could have gone down this fall, as a great many of them would have done had the water been at the usual stage,—none of them would ever have come back. There are several species of our river fish that are what may be termed complete migrants; that is, they would come to the headwaters of our streams in the spring of the year, deposit their spawn on the sandbars, gravel-bottoms or mudbanks of our shallow lakes and rivers, stay around with us from early spring until the cold of late autumn, when they would go down the Mississippi, and some specie even to the salt waters of the gulf. Of course the first dam that bars the river stops their upward course, and the fish that were so common here forty years ago are now unknown; not only here, but some species are nearly extinct, because of being shut out from their natural breeding grounds everywhere by dams and obstructions of every kind and description. The fish that we now have in our lakes and rivers are either residents, or as most of them are partially migratory. Their movement is the same as that of those species that we have entirely lost, only less extensive, and always remaining nearer to their spawning grounds. When spring opens instinct leads our fish up stream where they soon run against a dam; here they will lay for weeks vainly endeavoring to get over. Until the reproductive forces mature and they are left to deposit their spawn under very unnatural and unfavorable conditions, often where large schools of spawn eating suckers follow up our more valuable food fish and like a drove of hogs root around in the sand and gravel and grow fat on the eggs of black bass and walleyed pike. The combined wisdom of our fish commissioners and farmer lawmakers protect these spawn eaters from the spear and seine presumably for the sole delight and special benefit of the small boy with his chalk line and worm, but as the sucker is good only when the water is cold and at that time he has better and more palatable food furnished him by the early spring spawning fish. The sucker becomes the best protected fish that swims in Wisconsin waters, but what benefit this protection is to the good people of the state is a little difficult to comprehend, as not even the regulation sportsman nor dude angler cares to be seen "catching suckers."

The state of Illinois, is doing good work in reasserting the rights of its people to the free passage of fish up and down its streams. Wisconsin would do well to follow her example, indeed to achieve the best results they must work together as many of the best fish streams flow through the territory of both states. We can stock our streams that flow into Illinois every year with millions of fry from the state hatchery and at the expense of thousands of dollars to state, and we will be simply raising fish for our neighbors in Illinois unless there is free passage for the fish up and down these rivers. There are several fishway bills now pending before the legislature that, should they pass and be duly enforced, would vastly increase the fishery resources of our state, and which will cost the state nothing but the manly assertion of the rights of the people which has already been too long infringed upon by private individuals and corporations. With our present and still increasing success of the artificial propagation of fish and our streams restored to their natural conditions by suitable fishways in every dam and further prohibiting our streams from being used as cess-pools for the dumpings of all kinds of poisonous refuse and nastiness from every factory and workshop on its banks, we can easily fill our streams and lakes with the choicest of fish so that every man, woman and child can catch all the fish they want at any and all times of the year. I venture to say, and that without fear of contradiction, that there is no other resource of production within the state that can be so thoroughly and easily controlled, so enormously increased with so small an outlay of money and such reasonable restrictions on the people. But it will hardly be done by multiplying game wardens and enacting dams that savor of the rankest kind of class legislation, and so obnoxious to the people that instead of being upheld and enforced by their common consent, by and through the ordinary channels of law and order, special officers must patrol every pond, brook or stream. Why not have a horse warden, to catch all horsethieves; a melon warden, to look after the melons; a peanut warden to catch the small boy that nips a peanut out of the groceryman's basket? All these the sheriff and constabulary force seem to be able to take care of, and why not the violators of the game and fish laws as well? EARLY BIRD.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years; I had lost sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did, my sense of smell is partly restored and it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, 66 Valley street, Rendrill, Perry county, Ohio.

Pear's Soap secures a beautiful complexion.

HE GOT THE CLOTHES.

BUT THEY NOW SEEM LIKELY TO COME RATHER HIGH.

John Birmingham is out under bonds of two hundred dollars, the charge hanging over him being that of forgery. Birmingham went to the Milwaukee Clothing Co's store the other day and ordered a suit of clothes and an overcoat. He gave in payment an order proporting to be made by Edwin Tyrell, a moulder in the employ of the Janesville Machine Company.

A few days later the order was pronounced worthless—a forgery. A warrant for Birmingham's arrest was sworn out, and yesterday the young man gave himself up. His case is to come up for a hearing before Judge Patterson.

FOLLOWED TO THE PACIFIC.

G. S. LOUCK TOUCHED BY THE FAR REACHING HAND OF THE LAW.

G. S. Louck passed through this city yesterday on his way from Washington territory to Brodhead. He wasn't alone, however, for Sheriff Jackson of Green county sat in the seat next to the aisle, and seemed a good deal interested in Louck's wellfare.

Louck disappeared from Brodhead in September 1887. A neighbor's wife and two children, and seven thousand dollars in money went with him. He was agent for J. B. Searles, dealer in agricultural implements, and is charged with having failed to turn in the money he collected.

OUR MEMBERS.

THE IMPORTANT MEASURES INTRODUCED YESTERDAY.

At yesterday's session of the legislature Senator Lovejoy and Assemblymen Pratt and Tarrant, of this county, introduced the following bills:—

By Mr. Lovejoy—Amending the statutes relating to the offense of kidnapping, fixing the penalty therefor at not more than fifteen years nor less than one year.

By Mr. Pratt—To amend the statutes entitled of excise and the sale of intoxicating liquors, so that conviction of violation of the laws shall constitute a revocation of license.

By Mr. Pratt—Amending an act relating to the equalization of assessments.

By Mr. Tarrant—To amend the charter of the city of Edgerton.

"HELLO SARA!"

HE SAW THE RESEMBLANCE AND SPOKE ABOUT IT FRANKLY.

An actress is of all persons the most open to criticism of all sorts, and her physical peculiarities are commented upon with startling frankness.

A would be wit seeing Miss Helen Bayard of this city pass an open door way, in order to call attention to her slender proportions and tawny hair, called out heartily "Come in Bernhardt."

Miss Bayard tells the story with infinite gusto, the fact that she herself is the subject not detracting from her appreciation in the least.

SAVED FROM FIRE.

LOSS OF LIFE AVERTED BY A JANESVILLE GIRLS' COURAGEOUS WORK.

The efforts of Miss Anna Sheldon, of this city, in saving from a terrible death by fire the deaf and dumb children in the McCowan Institute at Englewood, have won high praise. The fire occurred on Thursday of last week as reported in the Gazette. Miss Sheldon, who is one of the teachers, saw that the twenty pupils were safely out of the building and then returned through the smoke in search of a sick woman who was in the rear room. Thanks to her courage, self-forgetfulness and presence of mind. All who were in the building escaped unhurt.

THINK THE ARMY IMMORAL.

A PROTEST AGAINST THE SALVATION ARMY TACTICS.

The Salvation Army is being protested against in Ashland on the ground of its immorality! Fifty residents in the vicinity of the Salvation Army barracks have sent a petition to the council asking that the army be declared a public nuisance or be so abated as to cause less annoyance. The communication stated numerous reasons why the barracks of the Salvetionists are a nuisance to the neighbarhood, among them that the morals of young boys and girls were contaminated by attendance at the meetings.

We have heard many of our old friends say that Salvation Oil cured them of rheumatism. Those who have not tried it should do so. Our druggists sell it for twenty-five cents a bottle all the time.

A VETERAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Yonkers Gazette: "Were you in the war, Mr. Vacum?"

"Yaas, indeed, Mith Twinket."

"And were you wounded?"

"Howably."

"Oh, isn't that delightful? Do tell me all about it."

"Thertainly, mith. It was thith way. Doncher know. I embawked in the theventh wegiment, an' when we ahwived at the theat of wosh we were put in a fawt, tho ath not to fwighten the enemy too much at futh an' one day, when we wuth on dweth pawade, the kyurnel came along and wemarked that my collah wath thoiled. The idea! I wath never more tewibly wounded in my life."

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 34 degrees above zero. Cloudy with southeast wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 39 degrees above zero. Light rain with northwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 10 and 35 degrees above zero.

THE JANESVILLE HOSTESS.

Her Efforts In Giving a Spice of Novelty to Her Entertainments.

Some of the New Ideas That Have Been Brought Out During the Season.

"Its the worst task in the world to look for anything new in entertainment. You might just as well give up at once."

Thus spoke a Janesville hostess whose name is a synonym for originality in the social circles of the city. Such a remark from one at whose call the elements of success were supposed to bow was hard to understand. A request was made far more light.

"What I mean," said she in an explanatory tone of voice, "is that everything practicable has been tried over and over. The only thing that hasn't been done to death is the dinner party; and I'm afraid the idea of getting men who are busy all day to sit down from six until half past seven to a full dress dinner would be laughed at.

"The consequence of all this is that you let things drift along until you are absolutely ashamed to go anywhere on account of the number of obligations that you see represented in every group. Then you tell William that something must certainly be done. If he is a husband of the regular order he says, 'Well, go ahead and do it,' and sits back wondering why women make so much fuss about little things anyway. Maybe he suggests that you make it what he calls a "hen party." You start out by squelching his on thim point and determining to show your originality. Will it be a dancing party, a round of progressive euchre or a parlor musical? For the dancing party, your house isn't large enough by half. If you choos cards the tables take up more room than the guests and you are under obligations to so many by this time that space counts. Now for the musical. That won't do either. It's hard to arrange doesn't quite answer any way. You come back to hubby's idea. An afternoon tea you can get up with very little trouble, your friends can come in, be bored for fifteen minutes or so, go out again and give room for others, and the number you can entertain in one afternoon is almost boundless. Does anybody ever enjoy it? Oh, no; I can't say that they do; but then enjoyment seems to be about the last consideration:

"The entertainments that are arranged for pleasure and not to pay debts have been merged this winter in the clubs. Two dozen congenial souls get together in one of these organizations and when any one of the two dozen feels like entertaining she just invites in "the club" and they have a better time perhaps than as though there were mixed in half a dozen partial strangers.

"Many of the new ideas that have been brought out during the winter have been by the younger people. One young lady gave her friends a very pleasant evening at what she called 'Progressive Conversation.' She had programmes made for each guest, with ten topics—Love, Flirtation, New Books, Art, etc., (the weather being strictly barred.) Blanks were left for a name opposite each topic, and each topic was to be discussed for five minutes. The company was composed of ten couples and partners were changed at the end of each five minutes.

"Another novelty that I hear is to be brought out on the eve of Washington's birth day, is a Continental Progressive Euchre party. A cherry tree is to be hung with tiny hatchets for souvenirs, and red, white and blue shields will answers for tally cards.

"But on the whole, concluded the matron mournfully, "this hasn't been a lively winter."

MRS. WILLIAMS RETURNS.

BROUGHT BACK IN CHARGE OF SHERIFF BABCOCK TO-DAY.

Mrs. E. S. Williams, accused of being unduly intimate with Dell Case, was placed in jail in this city to-day. She was brought from Sioux City, Iowa, by Sheriff Babcock.

THE CHILDREN'S CONCERT.

GIVEN BY MISS BENEDICT'S PUPILS LAST EVENING.

The Children's Concert, given by the pupils under Miss Benedict's instruction last evening at that lady's music rooms, was well attended, in fact her rooms were crowded, and the concert was a gratifying success to all. An excellent programme was prepared for the occasion as follows:—

The primary pupils rendered their parts with commendable spirit and remarkable good time. The first duet and all the solos were given with unusual expression from memory. The children all did remareably well, showing that they had been under the careful and painstaking instruction of a competent teacher. The audience was highly gratified at being able to listen to so fine a concert. It reflected great credit, upon the children, and upon their teacher as well.

THE NEW YORK GRAPHIC.

A New and Influential Factor in Republican Politics

COMPLETE REORGANIZATION. NEW MANAGEMENT.

As a vigorously Republican newspaper THE GRAPHIC appeals to Republicans all over the country for support. The new ownership is daily making a better paper in news and illustrations and propose to aid sound Republican Principles with aggressive pen and pencil.

THE GRAPHIC is the only illustrated daily paper in the world, and offers the best record of passing events for out-of-town readers through its pictures and news columns.

THE GRAPHIC now has a news service and staff of writers unsurpassed by any other evening paper in New York.

The Weekly Graphic.

Is just the paper for Republicans throughout the country who need a general newspaper in addition to their local weekly. It is a twelve page paper, six of which are devoted to clever pictures of current and political events, and six pages to bright articles by bright writers, social political and literary chat with all that makes a sound newspaper.

Republicans:

During the coming year some of the most prominent leaders in the Republican party will contribute timely articles to THE WEEKLY GRAPHIC.

Remember that the GRAPHIC, being an illustrated paper, does not interfere with any other paper.
